The "Blue Laws."

Many of our readers who have often heard of the Connecticut "blue laws," have probably never had an opportunity of perusing that famous code. The statutes copied below, from an ancient volume relating to the history of the American colonies, were enacted by the people of the "Dominion of New Haven."

The governor and magistrates convened in general Assembly, are the supreme power under God of the independent dominion.

From the determination of the Assembly no appeal shall be made.

The governor is amenable to the voice of the people.

The governor shall have a single vote in determining any question, and a casting vote when the Assembly shall be equally divided.

The Assembly of the people shall not be dissolved by the governor, but shall dismiss itself.

The judge shall determine controversies without a jury.

No Quaker or dissenter from the established worship of this dominion shall be allowed to give a vote for the election of magistrate or any other officer.

No food or lodging shall be offered to a Quaker or heretic.

If any person turn traitor he shall be banished, and not suffered to return on pain of death.

No priest shall abide in the dominion: he shall be banished and suffer death on his return.

Priests may be seized by any one without a warrant.

No one shall cross a river but with an authorized ferryman.

No one shall run on the Sabbath day or walk in his garden, or elsewhere, except reverently to and from meeting.

No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep the house, cut hair, or shave on the Sabbath day.

No woman shall kiss her children on the Sabbath day.

The Sabbath shall begin at sunset on Saturday.

To pick an ear of corn growing in a neighbor's garden shall be deemed theft.

A person accused of trespass in the night must be judged guilty, unless he clear himself by his oath.

When it appears that an accused has confederates, and he refuses to discover them, he may be racked.

None shall buy or sell lands without permission of the selectmen.

A drunkard shall have a master appointed by the selectmen, who are to deprive him from the liberty of buying and selling.

Whoever shall publish a lie, to the prejudice of his neighbor, shall be set in the stocks, or be whipped ten stripes.

No minister shall keep a school.

Every rateable person who refuses to pay his proportion to support the minister of the town or parish, shall be fined by the court £2 1s. and 4d. every quarter, until he or she pay the rate to the minister.

Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold, silver, or bone lace, above 1s. per yard, shall be presented by the grand jurors, and the selectmen shall tax the offender 300l. estate.

A debtor in prison, swearing he has no estate, shall be let out and sold to make satisfaction.

Whoever sets a fire in the woods and it burns a house, shall suffer death, and persons suspected of crime shall be imprisoned without benefit of bail.

Whoever brings cards or dice into this dominion, shall pay a fine of five pounds.

No one shall read common prayer books, keep Christmas or set days, eat mince pies, dance, play cards, or play on any instrument of music, except the drum, trumpet and jewsharp.

When parents refuse their children convenient marriages the magistrate shall determine the point.

The selectmen on finding children ignorant, may take them away from their parents and put them in better hands, at the expense of their parents.

Adultery shall be punished with death.

A man that strikes his wife shall pay a fine of £10.

A woman that strikes her husband shall be punished as the Court directs.

A wife shall be deemed good evidence against her husband.

No man shall court a maid in person or by letter, without first obtaining consent of her parents: £5 1s. for the penalty for the first offence; £10 1s. for the second; and for the third, imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

Married persons must live together or be imprisoned.

Every male shall have his hair cut round according to a cap.

[Note—The above laws were originally printed on blue paper, on which account they were called the Blue Laws.]

CALIFORNIA WONDERS.—Near the confines of Fresno, Tulare, and Inyo counties, in the vicinity of the headwaters of the Keweenaw, there exists a remarkable piece of country. The Indians say it is the abiding place of the Evil Spirit. The country is rugged and precipitous cliffs, snakes and reptiles, and, taken in all, it is a wild and most uninviting region. But, aside from this, a most curious phenomenon exists. The ground trembles and quakes almost continuously, and the abundant rocks grind and grit together as if being urged by some terrible influence. Frequently, deep discharges are heard, muffled and dull, like the distant sound of heavy artillery. At night the sounds seem to be more abundant than in the day time. No Indian can be induced to venture near the locality, regarding it with superstitious horror. No theory is advanced by any one to account for the strange phenomena mentioned. We also learn from William Faymonville that above the head of Crane Valley, in this country, another place similar to the one mentioned exists. Persons who have visited the last place named describe the sounds mentioned as like muffled thunder.—San Francisco Bulletin.

MATIN AGUE MIXTURE WILL POSITIVELY CURE CHILLS AND FEVER.
It does not matter if the case be chronic, "MATIN AGUE MIXTURE" will eradicate it entirely from the system. No one could refer to thousands who have been entirely relieved by Matin Ague Mixture, but we shall only give the names and residences of those who are known in this community, and whom any party, so desiring, may consult.

[TRANSLATION.]
Nantes, France, December 28th, 1870.
Mr. R. H. Bigger, Baltimore, Maryland.

Dear Sir: I have the honor of acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 10th ultimo, containing information for fifteen thousand francs upon our contract of 15th October last, and it is with pleasure I constitute you Sole Agent of the United States, Central and South America, for the sale of the Matin Ague Mixture, which has already accomplished so much good in our own country and Spain.

This Mixture contains no quinine, and nothing whatever that can injure the general health; nor is it disagreeable to the taste. I purchased the prescription of the celebrated Spanish Physician, Dr. Pedro Gonzalez, after his retirement from his profession, who gave me the most conclusive proofs and assurances that he had used the prescription in his practice of forty (40) years without its having failed in a single instance.

Matin Ague Mixture is chiefly composed of the very best and oldest wine, and the patient need not change his customary mode of living whilst taking the remedy. Indeed it is a pleasant tonic, and it taken in small quantities before breakfast each day it will prevent chills and fever in localities where miasma prevails. The patient will find that the Matin Ague Mixture cures an ague, and that instead of injuring it improves the general health. I warrant the Matin Ague Mixture to effect cure in all cases.

Yours, very truly, GUSTAVE DURANTE.

We are constantly receiving such letters as the following: Baltimore, May 25th, 1871.

Mr. R. H. Bigger: My youngest child was taken with the Chills and Fever when only nine days old; he was tended by a prominent physician for it, and he finally said he could do nothing for him, as his blood was turning to water. A friend advised me to try your Mixture. I called and saw you, and Mr. George Meyer stated it had never been given to a child that young, and advised me to get the mother to take the medicine and administer it with water and try and let the child take it so for three days—that was the end of the chills. The cure was remarkable, and can be substantiated by several of the neighbors. Yours, respectfully, H. RICHMOND, 237 E. Pratt st., Balt.

[Dr. William Frederick Stewart's Certificate.]
Baltimore, May 1st, 1871.

Having analyzed the Matin Ague Mixture, I do not hesitate to recommend it as an excellent remedy for Chills and Fever. It contains nothing that will injure the general health.

Wm. F. STEWART, M. D., Resident Physician Maryland Hospital.

[Dr. J. B. Williams' Certificate.]
Baltimore, April 19th, 1871.

I hereby certify that I have made a careful analysis of the Matin Ague Mixture, and that it does not contain a particle of quinine. I believe it to be a most efficient remedy for Chills and Fevers.

JOHN B. WILLIAMS, M. D.
